Connell Wins Crown In Ladies' Singles

After an hour and a half of grueling tennis under overcast skies last Tuesday evening, August 31, Helen Connell's grit and determination allowed her to achieve a long-sought goal when she edged by Maryann Stevens, 9-7, 6-4, to claim the victory in the Ladies Singles of the '71 BERA Tennis Tournament.

Helen's victory in the championship appeared almost to be a replay of her semi-final match with Mary Jane Stangby which also had an extended first set.

Losing the first two games in the initial set, and down 2 games to 5, Miss Connell called upon all her reserves of desire, drive, and determination, and stormed back with a love game on service in the eighth game, broke Stevens' service in the ninth, and then repeated with another love game in the tenth to even out the game score.

Following another service break, Connell reached double set point at 40-15 only to be frustrated by the equally determined and hard play of Mrs. Stevens, who took the next four points and made it 6-all in games.

After Mrs. Stevens held service in the thirteenth game it was all Connell for the remainder of the first set, as she lost only one point in the next three games, and that one on Stevens' service in the fifteenth.

Connell jumped off to a 4-love lead in the second set, and was ahead 5-1 before Stevens, featuring a methodical backhand-chopping attack to the corners, held service after going to deuce in the seventh game, broke service at love in the eighth, and fought back from double match point to deuce and then from match point to a win in the ninth. The ninth game, with 24 services, reached deuce five times and was exhausting for both players. In the tenth, Connell quickly reached 40-15 on five services, and, with victory again so close, could not be stopped from taking the remaining point, game, set and the championship.

The match was a sterling example of ladies' tennis with extended baseline rallies. There were very few errors; only four double faults, two for each player. Stevens' cannonball first serve was almost overpowering in the early stages of the match and contributed to her early lead. In the ninth game, however, Connell mastered the hard first service. From this point on, Stevens' first service became less accurate and her soft second service was much easier to handle.

Throughout the match, Stevens was continually on the attack, placing the ball well and effectively mixing her long shots, corner shots and angle shots. It was only by dint of hard running and seemingly impossible gets that Connell was able to prevail.

Safety Shoes

Safety shoes will not be issued on Thursday, September 16.

Radio Club Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the BNL Radio Club will be held at the Recreation Building on Thursday, September 9, at eight o'clock.

Badminton Birds

For those of you who may have been waiting with impatience to learn the outcome of this spring's informal competition in Badminton, some news, at last.

The singles tournament finally produced a winner. The first and second seeds met in the final round, having progressed that far without undo difficulty. Peter Mattern, second seed, then scored the big upset of the tournament, beating Joe Friedes in two games.

The first game reached 14-all; the second game had Mattern in the lead almost from the beginning and he won with a 7-point bulge.

As for the doubles tournament, we have completed the semi-finals; the finals will be played in the near future. What with travel schedules, vacations and the like, the teams of Dutch Stoenner-Powell Richards and Stew Bookless-Bob Smol haven't found a mutually acceptable date when they felt that they were in proper physical condition to meet the rigors of the championship round. Hopefully, they will complete the tournament before the end of September.

It has been proposed that there be a ladder tournament, under BERA sponsorship, with the possibility of awards to go along with the competition, exercise and sportsmanship. If enough people are interested, a suitable ladder can be set up for play from early November through early May. Having such a long tournament with a required minimum of matches to be played could make the participants eligible for participation points towards the goodies offered by BERA.

All people interested in such competition should let John Binnington know whether they want to compete in singles, doubles, or both.

Puleston To Deliver 104th BNL Lecture

Dennis Puleston, retired Head of the Information Division, and presently Chairman of the Environmental Defense Fund, will deliver the 104th Brookhaven Lecture on Thursday, September 16, at 8 p.m. in Berkner Hall.

"Defending the Environment - A Case History" will be an explanation of the way the EDF works through the courts to accomplish things that previously could not be done.

In a case in the State of Montana, the Court gave EDF a decision containing language wherein for the first time a Federal Court recognized the constitutional rights of the citizen to a healthful environment. Since that time, EDF has gone on to challenge such powerful bodies as the US Army Corps of Engineers.

Dennis Puleston

According to Puleston, "It was recognized early in the game that with strong, incontrovertible science behind them, members of the EDF had found an effective way to right some of the many environmental wrongs that big business and arms of the federal and state governments were responsible for."

The first case brought before the courts by the EDF was in Suffolk County in 1966. Suit was brought against the Suffolk County Mosquito Control Commission to prevent them from continuing to use DDT for mosquito control.

The six-day trial in Riverhead was a pioneering effort to establish vital precedents in future conservation law. The court-imposed ban on the use of DDT by the Control Commission was only for a year, but became permanent when the Mosquito Control Commission was ordered by the State to stop using DDT. In 1970, a state-wide ban on DDT was imposed.

Dennis Puleston was born in Mortlake, England. He received his BS in chemistry from St. Lawrence College in 1929, and in 1931 he earned an MS in Naval Architecture from St. Paul's University, both in England.

Diamond News

by Dean Easler

Brookhaven League playoff action was in full swing last week with things getting underway early in the week. Monday night the Blue Jays played Metallurgy in a make-up game which figured into the first half standings for Metallurgy but was the first scheduled game of the second half for the Blue Jays. The game started with the Blue Jays leading 6-2 after the first inning as Bob Lorelli hit a three run homer for the Jays. Metallurgy took the lead in the 5th at 7-6 but the Blue Jays tied it up in the 6th. With two out in the bottom of the 7th, Steve Garrett hit a soft line drive off the tip of the pitcher's glove and moved to second when the shortstop, trying for a play at first, threw low with the ball skipping past the bag. Harold Marshall then delivered the game's winning hit striking the ball up the middle. Final score was 8-7, Blue Jays over Metallurgy.

After this game the Old Timers, Metallurgy and the Blue Jays were all tied for first place in the second half. The Old Timers won the bye on first round playoff action so Metallurgy and the Blue Jays played again Tuesday night. The Jays were victorious again as they defeated Metallurgy 13-5 with George Oldham, who was back in action again, collecting a Blue Jay home run. Metallurgy played well but with three regulars missing could not out-do the steady hitting and good defense of the Jays.

Thursday night the Old Timers and Blue Jays played off for the second half honors and this was one of the best played ball games of the season. Fine defense and good pitching kept the game scoreless through the first three innings. In the bottom of the 4th the Old Timers scored a single run to take the lead 1-0 but the Blue Jays scored two in the top of the 6th to take a one run lead. Coming up with one run in the bottom the 7th it was 2-2. With one man out the defensive play that had been so good throughout the game disappeared as the Blue Jays committed three consecutive errors allowing an unearned run to score. The Old Timers thus won the second half with a 3-2 victory and having won the first half also, are this year's Brookhaven League champions.

Congratulations to the Old Timers for another championship year!

During the late 1930's he sailed across both the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans in a thirty foot sailboat. During World War II he worked on the design and use of amphibious craft in Europe and the Pacific.

He joined the staff of Brookhaven in 1948 and retired in 1970 as head of the Information Division. In addition to his renown as a naturalist, Puleston is an accomplished artist, sailor, photographer and raconteur.

He and his wife, Betty, live on Meadow Lane, Brookhaven.

A buffet supper will be served at the Brookhaven Center before the lecture. Reservations should be made in advance by calling Ext. 2283 before 5 p.m. on September 15. Refreshments will be available in the Lobby of Berkner Hall immediately after the lecture.

Tennis News

The big news item in last week's play in the 1971 BERA Tennis Tournament was the championship match in the Mixed Doubles which was not played as scheduled. On the day of the match, Andy Kevey was flat on his back in bed with a back strain. His opponents, Connell and Feldberg, graciously declined to accept victory by default and agreed to postpone the match until a later date when Andy is physically able to play again.

The Men's Singles Tournament was stymied again. Phil Palmedo was called away by a business trip, delaying his quarter-final match with Jim Brandon. The winner will meet Kevey (when able to play), to determine the semi-finalist in the lower half of the draw. Auskern and Feldberg will fight it out for the honor of representing the top half.

The Championship in Ladies' Singles was won by Helen Connell, 9-7, 6-4, over Maryann Stevens. For details see the story appearing elsewhere in this issue.

ADP Underwhelms
Phys Rev Girls
In Court Contest

In what may go down as the tennis match of the year, the ADP team of Bob Ehler, Cliff Frederickson and Tom Jesaitis sneaked by the team of Christine Saitta and Laura Kurz from Physical Review Letters, in the first annual Physical Review-ADP Tennis Tournament.

The tournament committee, having reviewed all protests voiced during the match, has finally awarded the 1st Place trophy to the ADP team and the Runner-Up trophy to the Phys Review team. The Phys Review team seemed to completely distract ADP, who barely managed to win the last and deciding game.

Some of the protests ruled against were:

1. Refusal of ADP to change sides (sun at back).
 2. ADP Cheering Squad rooting for Phys Rev team.
 3. ADP team rooting for Phys Rev team.
 4. Number of Oops's allowed per service.
- Better luck next year, girls!
